

Strong European Demand for BERVEX™ – Expands Production Capacity to Ensure Timely Deliveries

[Fulda, Germany, May 30, 2025] Just two months after its official market introduction, BERVEX™ – the new high-performance composite material brand launched by ARTISUM Germany – is seeing a rapid and steady uptake across multiple European industries.

Following a wave of initial interest, numerous companies requested material samples to assess the aluminium-coated glass fibre's performance in their applications. The feedback has been consistently positive, with many of these trial projects quickly converting into confirmed orders. Demand is now exceeding initial forecasts, particularly from sectors requiring advanced electromagnetic scattering and conductive properties combined with reliable, competitive European supply.

To ensure continued reliability and short lead times, ARTISUM Germany, in close coordination with its exclusive manufacturing partner in Asia, has already initiated an expansion of production capacity. Additional production lines are being brought online to meet growing order volumes without compromising the stringent aerospace-grade quality standards that define the BERVEX™ portfolio.

“Our priority is to ensure that customers receive their orders on time, without any compromise in quality,” states ARTISUM Germany. “By scaling our production capabilities now, we can stay ahead of demand and maintain the delivery performance our clients expect.”

With headquarters in Fulda and an operational branch in Offenbach am Main, ARTISUM Germany continues to position itself as a trusted full-service partner for market development, bridging European demand with specialized Asian manufacturing expertise. The company remains committed to delivering innovative, application-ready materials that combine technical excellence with commercial reliability.
