

BERVEX™ Secures Long-Term Supply Agreements Across Key European Industries

[Fulda, Germany, August 10, 2025] Five months after its launch, BERVEX™ – the advanced composite material brand by ARTISUM Germany – has moved beyond the initial adoption phase and is now embedded in multiple long-term supply programs across Europe.

Several early-adopting clients have successfully completed pilot integration of BERVEX™ aluminium-coated glass fibre into their production processes. Following these trials, contracts have been extended to multi-year supply agreements, ensuring consistent access to aerospace-grade quality materials with proven performance in demanding industrial environments.

“Securing these agreements is a strong confirmation of both the technical reliability and the commercial relevance of BERVEX™,” states ARTISUM Germany. “It demonstrates that our combination of specialized manufacturing expertise and European market alignment meets the needs of clients looking for both innovation and supply chain stability.”

In addition to confirmed repeat orders, ARTISUM Germany has supported its manufacturing partner in further optimizing production workflows, enabling stable lead times even for larger, recurring volumes. The Fulda-based company continues to work closely with European clients to explore new applications for BERVEX™, particularly in projects where high conductivity and electromagnetic performance are critical.

With headquarters in Fulda and a branch in Offenbach am Main, ARTISUM Germany remains committed to its role as a full-service partner for market development, bridging high-end material innovation from Asia with the performance standards and delivery expectations of the European market.
